PTSD in Children

Tara Dale, LISW-S
Psychiatric Intake Response Center (PIRC)

Post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) is an anxiety condition that can occur when someone experiences or witnesses a traumatic event which can include (but is not limited to): violence, sexual abuse or assault, serious accidents, natural disasters and the illness or death of a close friend or family member. June is PTSD Awareness Month and there have been many advancements in the understanding and acknowledgement of trauma for our military and veterans. This has begun to pave the way for new opportunities for support, treatment and recovery for our service men and women.

Another side of PTSD that is often overlooked is the impact and prevalence of trauma in children. The National Institute on Mental Health (2017) estimates that 5% of adolescents have been diagnosed with PTSD (8% female and 2.3% male). All children will experience some level of stress at some point in their life and most often children are able to work through those situations without significant distress. Although, there may be times when the stress may be too intense for the child which may lead to PTSD.

It can be easy to see behavioral issues in a child or adolescent and mislabel the behavior as "acting out," manipulative, attention-seeking or possibly as signs of another condition, such as ADHD. It's important for everyone to understand the implications of trauma for children. Understanding the signs of PTSD is an important first step, some of those signs include: excessive worrying, fear of leaving primary caregivers, heightened (negative) responses to daily tasks, irritability and anger, behavioral outbursts, difficulty sleeping, nightmares and avoidance of people or places that remind them of the traumatic event. Once able to recognize these signs, adults can act as a better support system for children. With understanding and support, children with PTSD can learn how to manage their symptoms and have a positive and happy future.

How you can support a child with PTSD:

- Create a safe space for them to feel loved and secure.
- Talk with your child. Be patient and encouraging.
- Be present and consistent. Routines can help to eliminate worry.
- Avoid exposure to mature and graphic images and experiences (this includes in their daily life and in the media). These images can re-traumatize children and teens.
- Connect them with a therapist who can teach them skills to reduce negative thoughts and how to cope with triggers. In therapy, the child can talk, draw, play, or write about the stressful event one-on-one, with their family present or in a group (CDC, 2019).
- Talk with their doctor to see if medication might be helpful to reduce overwhelming feelings of anxiety or sadness.

From the President

$510,000!!! I was shocked and thrilled when the numbers popped up at the Annual Dinner. You should be very proud of our contribution to The Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry. This is the culmination of EVERYONE'S hard work – in whatever way you were able to contribute. Every person in every group should pat themselves on the back; you all deserve to celebrate the hard work that you have done the past year.

A big thank you to Pat Wahl for arranging a wonderful evening with April Showers Bring The "Blooms" to May Flowers. It was so nice to spend time with Kindervelt friends in a relaxed atmosphere full of delicious food and an exciting umbrella reveal. Congratulations to Katrina Smith, the recipient of the Barbara Fitch award. You are always there, ready to fill any job that needs doing. You truly exemplify the true Kindervelt Spirit!

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the 2018-2019 Board for their dedication and hard work. They worked hard to fulfill their jobs and went above and beyond in many cases. No thank-you would be complete without thanking the groups. You are the backbone of this organization and though I usually only see your presidents on a regular basis, I realize that it takes more than a president to make the group function smoothly. I came away from each Leadership meeting with positive feelings – the enthusiasm and commitment of your presidents is contagious! To those taking on new offices for the 2019-2020 year, I welcome you. I truly appreciate your willingness to make room for Kindervelt in your busy lives.

Most groups take a breather during the summer, but there are groups that have major fundraisers. I know the minds of Kindervelt members never stop, so there is a lot of planning going on over the summer. Take time to relax and smell the flowers and the ideas will come. Thank you all for everything you have done over the year, and I look forward to working with all of you in the fourth year of our division. Together We Can Make a Difference!

Have a great summer,

Bonnie Hueneman
City President

ANNUAL DINNER

A SPECIAL THANK YOU! I would like to thank all the Kindervelt members that attended the Annual Meeting and to everyone for all their hard work this past year to help us reach the total of $510,000. That is such a wonderful accomplishment and everyone deserves a great big pat on the back. Also, I would like to thank Dr Sorter for his enlightening talk and in helping us to understand more about what the money raised is enabling Dr. Sorter and his colleagues to do. A special thank you to my friends in KV #68 for assisting me in the preparations for this special evening. Also, would like to thank Sue Deye for being the sponsor for Cincinnati Woman's Club and Pat Krumm for her assistance in setting up the tables. It was a wonderful evening and showed me another reason why it is so great to be a part of Kindervelt! Wishing everyone a safe and happy summer! Look forward to seeing you in the fall!

ATTENTION GROUP PRESIDENTS

Group summaries for the 2018-2019 Annual Report are now due!

Your written report should include your KV NAME & NUMBER, YEAR ESTABLISHED, NUMBER OF MEMBERS, MEETING DAY and MEETING TIME. Then summarize your GROUP'S YEAR - including all projects, any citywide events participated in, plus fun activities that were not necessarily fundraisers. Remember, you are highlighting your 2018-2019 year! You need not include any financial totals as they will be submitted through your group treasurer. (For reference, copies of last year's summary were distributed at the May Leadership Meeting.)

Please email summary reports to Tammy Booth, outgoing citywide Vice President at kvicepresident@kindervelt.org -or- boothpcfs@aol.com.

The ladies of KV#19 are proud to report that Lunch at the Links XI raised over $50,000 this year! This represents an almost $10,000 increase over last year's total!

Thank you again to all our business sponsors, our very generous members who also sponsored, and everyone who attended to support the event!

Tidbits

Kindervelt #78 Eastsiders

The members of Kindervelt #78 Eastsiders are SO PROUD of our very own Katrina Smith, who received the Barbara Fitch Award at the Annual Meeting! We believe there could be no more worthy recipient than Katrina, who works tirelessly on behalf of Kindervelt and the kids at Children's Hospital. Congratulations, Katrina! We are so happy for you!

Congratulations to Anne Von Moll on the birth of her new grandson, Lucas, on May 8th!

On May 18th, Kindervelt #78 held a fundraiser at Krohn Conservatory during its very popular Butterfly Show. Children (and some adults too!) had the opportunity to paint designs on rocks and/or gardening items such as hats, aprons, and tote bags in exchange for a donation to Children's Hospital. What wonderful creativity was on display as the kids drew with paint pens and glued small butterfly buttons onto their specially chosen items! Thanks to our members Terri Dahlem, Katrina Smith, Wendy Holschuh, Terri's sister Nancy and her nieces Erin and Katie, who helped out all day at the event. Extra special thanks to Terri, who organized the event and served as contact with Krohn Conservatory, which has been a great partner with us in raising funds for Children's. We hope our partnership continues well into the future!

On May 4th, Kindervelt #78 hosted a garage sale which was successful in spite of it being a gloomy day. The shoppers found many good buys among the numerous items for sale. In fact, many great items remain, so we have decided to do a repeat of the garage sale on June 1st to try to raise even more money for Children's Hospital! Thanks to all our members who helped to set up, price the items, and help out on the day of the garage sale. A special thanks to Mary Beth Young, who once again donated her garage to host the sale. Let's hope for better weather on the 1st!

Congrats to all the bakers in KV 16 who continue to boost our donation each month with all the tasty bakery items!

KV #68 Thanks Pat Wahl for stepping up to chair this year's Annual Meeting & Dinner. Thank you to members of KV #68 for a great year of fund raising and helping Pat Wahl at the Annual Meeting & Dinner. If you see a green umbrella around, watch out!

KV #68 is grateful for the lovely "end of the year meeting & dinner" hosted by Bonnie Hueneman at her home.

The meal was delicious & the dessert supplied by Bev Rainier was decadent. Most of all we are happy to include a break.
