From the President

Welcome to a new year of "Together We Can Make A Difference!" I hope you all had a great summer. Now that fall is upon us, it's time to ramp up our Kindervelt activities. This includes seeing our Kindervelt friends whom we have not seen the past couple of months. This is an exciting time as we come together again, refreshed and full of energy, to plan a new year of events.

Although we had a little more time for relaxation this summer, some groups were busy with summer events. The work of Kindervelt continued with many groups selling programs and ice at the Western & Southern Open, having pool parties, hosting Bunco events, organizing golf outings and many other activities. It was time well spent as you spread your enthusiasm for Kindervelt and Cincinnati Children's Hospital to new neighbors and friends.

Thank you to all members who stepped forward to take a leadership role in your groups by agreeing to fill an officer position. It is a really fun and rewarding way to help raise funds. Also, a big thanks to all the members of this year's Board of Trustees, City Wide Events and the Nominating Committees. I look forward to an exciting year working together!

This fall brings many new membership opportunities as we reach out to neighbors and friends to join and share in our excitement. I encourage each of you to promote Kindervelt and the good works we do by inviting a friend to attend one of your Kindervelt meetings. By increasing our visibility, we can increase our membership and accomplish more. More willing hands means we can spread the work and feelings of satisfaction among many. We can make this happen if we continue to share our commitment and enthusiasm!

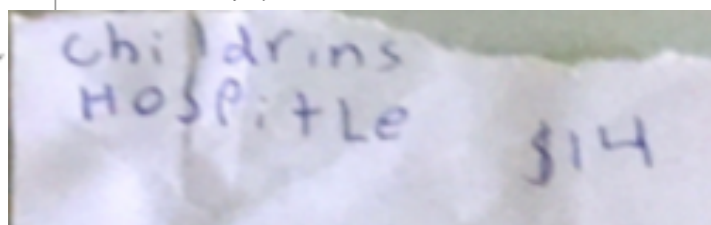

I received a donation from a six-year-old girl named Pepper Jones. She helped her grandmother roll change and was given the chance to help others with the money if she would like. Pepper chose to give her $14.00 to Kindervelt to help other children. Thank you, Pepper, you brought a tear to my eye for being such a generous young lady! The children at Cincinnati Children's Hospital are grateful that you have learned at such a young age to give to others.

Together We Can Make A Difference,

Bonnie

Suicide, a Public Crisis in the U.S.

Tara Dale LISW-S, Psychiatric Intake Response Center

Suicide has become a public health crisis in the United States. In 2017, more than 47,000 people died by suicide. The rate of suicide among teens is over 14%. Stigma around mental health creates a shadow over those struggling with anxiety and depression. Often people avoid conversations about mental illness due to fear, shame, feeling uncomfortable and not knowing what to say. It is important to know the warning signs of suicide so that you can try to help those in your life who may have those thoughts. September is National Suicide Awareness Month and everyone can take steps to help prevent suicide. The American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (2019) identified some warning signs to look for:

Talk	Behavior	Mood
If a person talks about:	Behaviors that may signal risk, especially if related to a painful event, loss or change:	People who are considering suicide often display one or more of the following moods:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Killing themselves• Feeling hopeless• Having no reason to live• Being a burden to others• Feeling trapped• Unbearable pain	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Increased use of alcohol or drugs• Looking for a way to end their lives, such as searching online for methods• Withdrawing from activities• Isolating from family and friends• Sleeping too much or too little• Visiting or calling people to say goodbye• Giving away prized possessions• Agitation• Fatigue	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Depression• Anxiety• Loss of interest• Irritability• Humiliation/Shame• Agitation/Anger• Relief/Sudden Improvement

The impact of suicide has become more visible due to various Hollywood storylines including the Netflix show, 13 Reasons Why. This is popular yet controversial series (based on a book with the same name) primarily focuses on the events leading up to and the aftermath of a young girl's suicide. The series highlights various struggles adolescents may encounter including peer pressure, bullying, mental illness and sexual assault. The show depicts the devastating effects of suicide and has also sparked debate about how and when it should be discussed and portrayed in the media to avoid negatively impacting vulnerable youth. The show premiered its third season this past August and the network has added various discretionary warnings for viewers including that it may not be appropriate for individuals who are struggling with those issues. It also encouraged teens who do choose to watch it, to only view with a trusted adult who can help them to process what they have seen. It is important for adults to know what to say and how to help if a teen in your life chooses to watch this show or is struggling with suicidal thoughts.

Studies have shown that discussing suicide does not increase the likelihood of an individual attempting suicide but rather that acknowledging and talking about suicidal thoughts can help to reduce those thoughts (National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, 2019). The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline provides guidelines for 5 action steps to support an individual who may be at risk of suicide.

- Ask. Ask them directly, "are you having thoughts of killing yourself?" You can also ask them how you can help. Do not ever promise to keep their thoughts of suicide a secret.
- Keep them safe. Identify any potential imminent safety concerns that would warrant additional intervention from trained professionals. Call 911 or go to the nearest emergency room if there are concerns.
- Be there. Show them support by being physically present or talking with them on the phone. Be sure to not make commitments you cannot keep.
- Help Them Connect. Talk to them about contacting a crisis line and connecting with mental health professionals.
- Follow up. Check in with them after your initial conversation to see how they are doing. You can do this by visiting them, calling or texting them.

Each of us can be a part of keeping those at risk of suicide safe. Those who struggle with suicidal thoughts can often feel isolated and alone. Being available to listen and to talk can make a huge difference and potentially save a life. Anyone who is concerned that a youth is in immediate risk of suicide, you should call 911 or Cincinnati Children's Hospital's Psychiatric Intake Response Center (PIRC) at 513-636-4124. Individuals in crisis can also call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-TALK (8255) or contact the Crisis Text Line by texting "TALK" to 741741.

It was a busy year at the tournament as Kindervelt was helping for the first time to sell ice and souvenir cups along with the traditional programs and draw sheets. With the temperatures as high as they were, the booths were hopping, the ice was a huge hit and the volunteers were working hard. There were over 100 volunteers and more than $50,000 worth of ice sold during the week long tournament! Thanks to everyone who came out to help. Special thanks to KV22 Chairman, Stephanie Janseen and volunteer coordinators, from KV22, Jackie Kirkpatrick and Deb Clerc. A mountain of work like trying to heard cats, but you did it!

A Profile of Gayle Keating

Gayle Deckbar Keating grew up in Atlanta, Georgia and studied at Loyola University in New Orleans. She met her husband, Tom, in The Big Easy. After graduation they married and the newlyweds relocated in Cincinnati so Tom could attend Chase Law School. Tom and Gayle are grateful that both of their children live in the area and have the luxury of being part of the lives of their five grandchildren.

Her initiation into Kindervelt came through a friendship with parents of a young child with a brain tumor. She became aware of the great things that CCHMC was doing to help very ill children. She had heard a lot about Market (now Kinder Krafts) and joined the original KV #38 (North Sharonville). During that time she was a Co-president, Secretary, Treasurer of her local group, and became citywide Market Chair in 1989. The theme that year was Gardens of Holiday Delights. Market was moving from the Armory to the Cincinnati Gardens so the theme really was a fit. She also worked on committees for the world World Figure Skating Event and Steeplechase. Gayle was Vice President and became citywide President from '92-94. She was active as an Area Liason, All About Kids, and The Rowing Event. She has many good memories of all the ladies and fun projects from the early years.

Her group now is KV #45. Their main craft project includes the revision of the large felt door figure hangers dressed in many different holiday attire. Look for these Kinder Krafts Classics at our November 2, 2019 Kraft Sale at Seton High School.

Gayle enjoys entertaining, traveling and of course her family. She is involved in several bridge groups, is an avid book reader, participates in a walking group around Sharonville, and just recently competed in a 1/2 marathon. When the choir of St. Michael's Church recently went to France, she and Tom traveled with them. Many times both have returned to the Big Easy for college reunions and visits with friends. Kindervelt has been and continues to play a very important part in Gayle's life. "It is always better to give than receive." Thank you Gayle for giving much to Kindervelt.
